FCD Seeks Proper Water Level For Everglades Deer Herd

Maximum efforts to reduce water levels are continuing this week in the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

It is hoped that a future problem with Everglades deer water conservation area 3 can be avoided, according to Robert W. Padgett of Fort Pierce, chairman of the FCD Governing Board.

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has been notified by the FCD to take water measures are necessary to protect the deer and other terrestrial wildlife in conservation areas. The Game Commission is responsible for wildlife.

As of Tuesday, the level of water at the "deer gate," north of Alligator Alley, in western Broward County, was 11.58 feet (above sea level). This is half a foot above the level recommended for deer by the wildlife authorities at this time of year.

Lake Okechobee was 8/10 of a foot above regulation, with a stage of 14.32 feet (above sea level). The Army Corps of Engineers is releasing excess water from the lake to the Gulf of Mexico, via the Colapinto River, at a rate of 4,380 cubic feet per second. Another 5,000 cfs is being released to the Atlantic Ocean by way of St. Lucie Canal.

But water continues pouring into the big lake at a rate of more than 6,000 cfs from the Kissimmee River. And even more water is flowing in from Fishcreek Creek, Taylor Creek, and other tributaries.

Excess water cannot be moved from the lake to the three FCD conservation areas because they also are above schedule. Conservation Area 1 in Palm Beach County is 2.35 feet above regulation, with a current level of 16.35 feet. Spillways at the south end of the conservation area are open, and discharging more than 5,000 cfs into Conservation Area 2. Another 366 cfs is being released into the Hillsboro Canal to tide-water. But two pumping stations, on the north and west sides of Area 1, are pumping water into the conservation area, to prevent flooding of farmlands east of Belle Glade.

Conservation Area 2, west of Pompano Beach and Fort Lauderdale, is 2.27 feet above regulation. Spillways gates in U.S. Highway 27 are open, and transferring almost 5,000 cfs from Area 2 into Area 3. Cypress Creek Canal, east of Area 2, is being utilized to move 470 cfs eastward to tide-water. However, pumping station S-7 is moving water into Area 2 from Palm Beach County.

At Tamiami Trail, all 24 gates of water control structures separating Conservation Area 3 from Everglades National Park have been wide open for several weeks. Thick sawgrass in the north end of the National Park has been slowing the flow of water into the Park. While the Park should be receiving 5,000 to 10,000 cfs the flow has only reached a maximum of 2,200 cfs. But the Corps of Engineers moved a mowing machine into the area Monday, and is cutting swaths of vegetation 200 feet wide and 1,500 feet long, to help move more water into the Park.

The new Miami Canal, which is being excavated in the interior of Conservation Area 3, as part of a conveyance channel system to deliver more water to the Park, is helping to reduce flood stages in the northern part of the Conservation Area, and a number of "deer islands" have already been completed. They are intended to provide places of refuge for upland wildlife in times of excess water.

Survival Plan
To assure survival of the species, the common North American road can lay 28,000 eggs in a 10-hour period.

Jacksonville, Florida — New withholding tax tables which include the 10 per cent surcharge passed by Congress last week are in the mail and will be in the hands of Florida employers with in the next few days, according to A. J. O'Donnell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue Service for Florida.

Mr. O'Donnell said that although the President has not yet signed the bill, the tables are being released by IRS so that employers can get the new rates into effect without any delay. The bill as enacted by Congress requires employers to use the new rates for wages paid after the 15th day following the signing of the bill by the President.

Employers who have been filing quarterly withholding tax returns on Form 941 will not have to request the new tables as the revision of Circular E now in the mail contains the new tables in both percentages and wage bracket form. New employers who have not previously filed Form 941 may obtain the revised Circular E from their local IRS office.

Directly O'Donnell also called attention to a typographical error which appears on page 33 of the revised Circular E. He pointed out that the correct withholding for the $50-$600 wage bracket with 8 exemptions is 56.10 rather than 59.10 as shown on the circular.

Enjoyed Visiting Forbidden caverns

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Resmondo and family of 400 N. E. 3rd St., and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Brown and family all of Belle Glade recently enjoyed a visit to Forbidden Caverns, near the Great Smoky Mountains, to view the many natural formations in the cave.

Forbidden Caverns, a short drive from Gatlinburg and Sevierville, Tenn., was opened this season after two years of excavating and construction work.

The attraction features some of the most spectacular formations in America, all illuminated by an extensive theatrical lighting system. Stereophonic sound presentations in the grottoes recreate the days when the prehistoric Woodland Indians inhabited the cave and surrounding valley. Indian legend refers to the caverns as "The place that is forbidden . . . hollow mountain of two streams . . ."

Some of the main points of interest are "Eternal Falls," an almost 100 foot waterfall down a natural chimney formation; "The Sacred Stream," a crystal clear stream that winds through the caverns; "The Grotto of the Dead," with reflection pools and stereo sound "Council Chamber of the Elders," where Indian artifacts have been found; "Grotto of the Evil Spirit," where huge stalagmites stand in a semi-circle around a small lake; and "The Wall of Oxyx," a gigantic formation of solid cave oxys.

The Bob Woods family is vacationing at their beach home at Ft. Myers Beach.

Rev. Jack Ponzo, from Orlando former minister of First Baptist Church here, visited friends Sunday.

Jack Tanaka accompanied by his step daughter, Ginger Clark and Judy McMillan flew to Pompano Park to spend the day with his parents. Mike Day piloted the plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Livingston and boys have returned from Hoover in the Hills, while he was working during the corn season in the Zellwood area. They have moved to 233 N. W. 12th Drive from the Bess Apts. on S. E. Ave. E.

YOUR MONEY

By Richard A. Poston

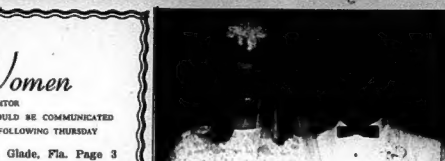

Our nation's Declaration of Independence remains one of the world's greatest documents . . . an enduring testament to man's individual liberty.

His right to chart his own course freely. The independence our forefathers won for us did not come easily. They had to fight for it . . . and to act wisely so that what they won would not be lost in later generations. The freedom we enjoy is a monument to their vision.

So it is with each of us in our own lives. Many kinds of independence must be nurtured and carefully preserved. That includes financial independence . . . the ability to stand on our own feet, even after retirement, to enjoy freedom from want and fear.

This kind of financial independence, which contributes so much to spiritual independence, can only be preserved through planning the structure of our lives. Regular savings are one of the chief building blocks. As one of our famous forefathers, Benjamin Franklin, said, "It is hard for an empty sack to stand upright."

"Independence Forever" — John Adams, on his death bed, July 4, 1826.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Senator Strom Thurmond said on the floor of the Senate last Friday, June 21st, "I am a Senator, including myself, I am responsible for the responsible authorities to deny a permit for this illegal and violent march." Senator Thurmond was referring to the so-called "Resurrection City" in Washington, the encampment of the Poor People's Marchers between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument in the nation's capital.

Upon contacting a member of Congress recently with the question, "Can you tell me what the official word is on the part of the federal government, either city or federal, give permission to the Poor People's Marchers to have a shanty town between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument?" I received this reply "I... one would have to say that the authority came from the Secretary of the Interior although someone else may have acted in his behalf. Of course, we must assume that this would not have been done without the approval of President Lyndon Johnson."

Therefore, as President Johnson looks about him at this blot on the beautiful face of the Nation's Capital, as he considers the crime that has already been committed in Resurrection City, to say nothing of the violence that will probably erupt before they are moved out of Washington, he can only say to himself, "I brought this on."

It is understood a Bayview group wanted to hold a one day meeting around the Washington Monument, but were refused. Also, that a group of Boy Scouts wanted to camp for three days in sight of the Washington Monument, but were refused. These religious, patriotic organizations were denied the privilege of meeting on public grounds, but the right people from all parts of the country, the deluded, the deceived people who thought they were doing something in the interest of their race, were permitted to build an encampment on one of the most beautiful spots in the nation's capital.

Due to steady rains that occurred in instances where the spot was rather quickly turned into a quagmire of mud and filth. There is no telling what it will cost the taxpayers of this country to restore the place to its natural beauty.

That is to say nothing of the crime that has been committed in the shanty town thus far, and that probably will be committed both there and in the City of Washington before it is all over. Believe it or not, the Justice Department entered into an agreement with leaders of the Poor People's March that they should have no police powers within Resurrection City. In other words, the Washington Police force and the National Capital Park Police were denied the right to police an area within their own jurisdiction. As a result of this arrangement, there has virtually been no policing in the camp, and people have been assaulted and robbed and raped without the benefit of our Nation's laws to protect them. Is this another thing for which President Johnson must accept responsibility?

Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia, spoke in the Senate on the same day, during the course of his remarks said:

"Even those who have heretofore supported this mismanaged, misguided, misbegotten campaign must surely have been disillusioned by the public display of selfishness and laziness and lawlessness that the inhabitants of Resurrection City have put out to all to see." Then Senator Byrd went on to say, "Resurrection City became a shanty town."

Editor's note: With student demonstrations and riots in the news these days, apparently aimed at tearing down the nation and all it stands for, it is encouraging to know there are those who still have the courage to stand up for America.

One such is Kathy Norris, an honor student as well as a beauty queen at Wallalla Senior High School, Wallalla, Washington.

Kathy was a district winner in that state's recent VFW Oratorical Competition.

Oh, no! My mother's screaming again:

"You know you can't study while that radio is going full blast. Just as I started to turn off my radio, a song I had never heard before caught my attention. The beat sounded off-key as if everything was out of focus. Yet, as off-beat as the tune seemed, the words held me captive."

The song began:

"The other day I heard someone say, you know, America is a real trouble! Our young men are dying for ideals which don't seem to mean much to Americans anymore, and we are involved in a half-dozen needless conflicts, spilling American blood on foreign soil."

I began to think, what are our soldiers fighting for? They are fighting for our nation's freedom, but what are we as Americans doing in our homeland to back them? Not much of anything. All we can do is sit home and criticize the efforts of others.

The record continued: "Our real trouble doesn't lie in the rice paddies of Vietnam... in the masses of Red China... or in the diabolical intrigues to the south of us. America's real troubles lie in the playgrounds of St. Louis, the hillside mansions of San Francisco and the slums of Chicago."

I took a deeper look at myself and my country. America is becoming corrupt within herself and within the hearts of many of its citizens. Once a strong religious nation, America stood up for her rights, but now foreign diplomats say "American democracy is in decline" under the weight of its own corruption, and "did you know, it's working."

The record continued: "The basic ideals and structure of America haven't changed. We have... you and me."

The pilgrim in the year 1620 traveled to America on the Mayflower for several reasons. The most important was religious freedom. Later, the Constitution declared for the nation's citizens: freedom of press, freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom to bear arms, freedom to quarter troops, and freedom of opinion. The privilege of these freedoms has been exhausted. They are now taken for granted. Too much has been given to Americans today.

Once again the beat of the record broke my train of thought with these words:

"Sometimes when you're at a party, ask someone to sing 'America' and see what happens. We stare at our shoes when the national anthem is being played, and we are ashamed to be with our eyes closed during public prayer. This is the year of the unbeliever. Old fashioned love of God is rare."

All at once I began to feel my toes being stepped on, and a mirror being held in front of me. I could actually see myself in these words. Could this image really be me? This question needs to be asked by every American today.

Again the record sounded:

"Democracy is a frail and fragile instrument made up of hope, prayer and Yankee ingenuity. It is held together by Fourth of July flag-waving patriotism. Patriotism is plain and simple pride: a new car, prettier girl, bigger house sort of pride and patriotism. Patriotism has been condemned."

The condemnation of patriotism is the fault of every individual who has been or is involved in any slandering act which casts a bad reflection on America. Patriotism sounds big... but actually patriotism is the love a man has for his own country.

Every individual needs to take a good look at his counterpart and ask himself what he believes in and let others do the fighting for them or not the true Americans. The Americans are those who do their own fighting. Our boys in Vietnam cannot win this war without our help. So let's fight for our freedom.

Rejection of the record was soon to come. My heart filled with pride when these words sounded:

"Try this test. Lift your eyes to a flag, then pray out loud as you can, that old, outworn, antiquated hymn you learned so many years ago... 'America, America, God shed His grace on thee...'"

Now if you feel a little pride swelling up inside you, you feel a little more in your eyes, then thank God for you, mister. You're still an American."

My eyes became misty and my heart began to beat loudly. I felt that God himself was speaking to me.

The song was entitled "Day for Decision" and was recorded by Allen N. Pelier.

Fellow Americans, our day for decision is today. My decision is to pray to God for the freedom Americans once knew the freedom for which our forefathers fought.

I leave you with this question: "What is your decision?" Kathy Norris (Keweenaw Courier) most from the moment it was created. It has now become a jungle, which much more appropriately should be known as "Insurrection City."

Thus does encouragement to disobey the law, thus does laziness in enforcing the law and order throughout the nation, finally attack the heart of the Nation's Capital. Will we have a change before it is too late?

He earned his second Silver Star for gallantry and devotion to duty while flying an F-105 Thunderbolt on a combat mission near Hanoi, North Vietnam. He was cited for taking over the strike force after his leader suffered from a heart attack.

With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Captain Johnson returned to the area where the strike force leader had been shot down and attempted to make contact with him despite the dangers of antiaircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles.

Captain Johnson was awarded his second DFC for professional competence, aerial skill and devotion to duty during another strike against a target in the Hanoi area. Despite intense antiaircraft fire, he dropped his bombs with pinpoint accuracy, inflicting heavy damage on a motor vehicle repair plant, thus materially lessening the availability of armored trucks to North Vietnamese military forces.

Heroism and selfless devotion to duty while leading a force of F-105s against the Phou Yem Airfield in North Vietnam won the captain his third DFC. He was cited for pressing the attack against an important high way bridge and destroying it, despite marginal weather, antiaircraft fire, and surface-to-air missiles.

Captain Johnson had previously been decorated with 14 awards of the Air Medal for outstanding performance.

He is presently serving in the Cavalry Division Airborne in Vietnam. He writes home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barrett of Belle Glade, Fla., only has 130 more days until his year's service in Vietnam will be over. "Richard is a helicopter pilot."

A REMINDER, MR. PRESIDENT!

This July 4th, Millions of Americans will celebrate 192 years of Independence since cutting ties with England.

But each day that goes by, the importance of that Independence diminishes just a little bit with realization that it is been 160 days since a nobody, pit-stinked country pushed us around in front of the rest of the world, and it will probably be a lot longer before justice is meted out.

I'm referring to the Pueblo "capture" (hijacking) and the loss of its 83 crew while cruising in international waters off the coast of North Korea.

Even the mild-mannered British didn't take the Boston Tea Party too lightly — let alone if we'd (tried) taken over their ships and held the crew on a trumped-up charge. As if they'd have let us get away with it in the first place.

Incidentally, the "Tea Party" was a matter of no taxation without representation, which could be turned around in our case to "don't bite the hand that fed you..." 1945-56 saw the American taxpayer pour $6,676,700,000 into the Republic of Korea (North and South). The figures aren't wrong, just the reasons (whatever they were) of our legislators for giving this much.

What were you afraid of, Mr. President, a war? Chances are better for that now than ever before!

Now that one little country has "gotten up" and gotten away with it, they encourage others like themselves. What if I don't feel that the staunchest supporters of North Korea would have been of much help at that time.

Red China was torn with internal problems that threatened to tear out her own heart, while tens-of-thousands of Vietnamese on Formosa were chaffing at the bit to add the final touches of downfall to the Red-Dragon.

Russia was so busy trying to make a deal to buy our wheat, to feed her hungry peasants (which was the fieldwork man the factories...) making the weapons of war for North Vietnam to kill our boys, but that's another story all in itself.

Some years ago a state committee woman, for one of the two major parties, told me that it is so hard to predict trends in northern and southern thinking because Southern Democrats react more like Northern Republicans and vice versa.

I've even heard some Democrats (nationally) say that the Republicans want to take the country as far back as the McKinley Administration.

But that's okay with me, because the call then was "Remember the Maine, not 'Forget the Pueblo.'" Happy July 4th, Mr. President!

P. S. — The other day I heard what might just be the answer to your rather sticky problem: Sell the Pueblo to Israel for $2.98 and let them go collect it!

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

Clem Webster has figured the situation out one side and down the other and he has decided the voters in this country were called on to pick people for the wrong office. He was of the opinion we had ought to elect them pollsters, on account of they pick the winners for public office anyway.

Usual, Clem looks on the bright side, most special when the Democrats was in office, but Saturday night as the country store he was down on the general state of politics. What was happening, he allowed, was that the tail was wagging the dog. Not only was the Government telling people how to run things instead of leading them, but even worse, it was telling citizens what they were thinking instead of the other way round.

They used to say "as Maine goes, so goes the nation," allowed Clem, but now everybody just reads their favorite poll to know how the country is doing.

Ed Doolittle, that seldom is agreed with Clem on anything, allowed that even a blind hog finds a corn one in a while and that Clem had come up with a solid idea. Ed was full agreed with Clem that this country was being run by the big advertising agencies where you create a demand for a product and then sell the product. If the public was being told what it wants, it doesn't care, said Ed.

Furthermore, said Ed, politics in the United States was run at the convenience of the television networks instead of the other way around. When the networks want, Ed said, was "television" and they were more interested in being seen and heard than about what's going on in Government.

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed. He reported where a copious charged Ronald Reagan with wearing makeup on his face and that his hair and teeth were store bought. Reagan's helpers immediately called a news conference to deny all the charges and answer all questions about Reagan's good looks. People were more interested in a candidate's deodorant than his issues, Zeke claimed. But when you get winners movie stars endorsing certain kind of car muffler and selling a lot of mufflers you were living in a crazy world.

Personal, Mister Editor, it's a mystery to me why a fellow would want to run for President nowadays in the first place. It's getting where it was mostly a spending race and a candidate spends $10 million running for a job that pays $100,000 a year, and it was the only job in this country that don't offer no chance for advancement. No matter what you do after you're President, you're just a loser.

Yours truly, Uncle Dan

From Apathy to Dependence.

From Dependence back to Bondage.

From 1776 to date is 192 years. Give that a few years to reach 200 and see how you feel America is doing toward helping America repeat itself.

How do we stack up the side on spiritual faith and courage. We have liberty and abundance but no one can deny our selfishness and complacency or our apathy.

The time is growing short and only a change in our individuals can the great and powerful civilization of which we have positive record have existed for only about 200 years and it's all over.

Recorded history, however, tells a story in America may well ponder over today. It indicates that the great and powerful civilization of which we have positive record have existed for only about 200 years and it's all over.

Live as free men; not however as though your freedom were there to provide a screen for wrongdoing, but as slaves in God's service.
—I Peter 2:16 (NRS)

Whoever experiences the transforming friendship of Jesus knows himself to be a free person. He also knows he has the responsibility of developing Christian attitudes and practicing them daily in various situations.
A Christian gentleman who was buying his afternoon paper said, "Thank you, sir," to the sour-faced clerk, who made no response.
A friend walking with him asked, "Do you say 'Thank you' to that surly fellow every afternoon when you buy your paper?"
"Why, yes," replied the gentleman. "I can't let someone else decide how I'm going to act."
Christian liberty is not only freedom from something but freedom for something—freedom to become servants of God. We serve Him by deeds done in Christ's spirit, by reacting as Christian persons at all times—in unimportant as well as in important situations.

De Interes En Belle Glade

DIA 4 DE JULIO

HOY, día 4 de Julio, es el Día DE LA INDEPENDENCIA de los Estados Unidos, la fecha mas grande, en este país.

Los muestros celebran con rodeos en Kissimmee y St. Cloud, de Julio 4 al 7. Habrán celebraciones también con autos de carreras, y 64 muchachos Rainers de Belleza adornaron los programas para el día 4 de Julio. Habrán parrandas por las calles, celebran también con cohetes y barbécues al aire libre. En Daytona Beach a la medianoche de Julio 3 comenzaran el viaje de Paul Reverse. El día 4 celebran las carreras de autos. Anterior a estas carreras, comenzando en Julio 30 hasta Julio 3, se celebró un concurso de belleza, cuya ganadora sera huésped en los eventos de las carreras. Celebran también con conciertos y recitales con diferentes artistas invitados.

En Miami Beach, habra cantidad de bellezas internacionales que entraran en el concurso de Miss Universo, de Julio 4 al 15. Y serán recibidas con una Parada, a las que ellas asistirán con los trajes típicos de sus países. Habrá comidas y bailes de celebración en todos lugares.

La Fiesta Anual del 4TH OF JULY, se celebrara en Pahokee a la caída del sol con exhibición de fuegos artificiales en el break water de Pahokee.

Después de los fuegos artificiales el Lion Club ofrecera un barbécue dinner en su club, el cual costara el costo de $740 de los fuegos artificiales. También se han dado donaciones por los ciudadanos y varios comercios.

En esta fecha 4 de Julio, se recuerda a la Estatua de la Libertad que adorna la bahía de Nueva York. Inspirada por el francés Edouard de Laboulaye, profesor de leyes e historiador, quien constaba con muchos amigos en America.

Laboulaye era un devoto Católico quien escribía que la libertad era "hija del evangelio, hermana de la justicia, madre de la igualdad, abundancia y paz".

El escultor de la Estatua de la Libertad fue el joven escultor de Alsacia, Frederic Bartholdi, quien decía de su colonial escultura que era "La Libertad iluminando al Mundo".

Habiendo comenzado ya la época de los Huracanes en la Florida, con los tifones Abby, Brenda y Celia, recordamos a los refugiados de los Shelters o Refugios en caso de tormenta y peligro.

Aquí en Belle Glade contamos con los refugios siguientes: Belle Glade Elementary School, Gove Elementary School, Gladesville Elementary School, Belle Glade High School, Lake Shore High School, Okeechobee Center Recreation Building.

Y como precauciones, si los pasan en sus hogares, se recomienda:

1. Oír radio o televisión para los últimos avisos del tiempo.
2. Evacuar las playas expuestas y las areas bajas. Si no se sienten seguros en sus casas, vayan a alguno de los Red Cross shelters.
3. Si Ud. vive en un mobile home (trailer) debe dejarlo bien asegurado y refugiarse en un shelter u otro edificio seguro.
4. Vigilar las tubidas de agua en los locales cerca de rios, arroyos y canales.
5. Ponga cubiertas de tablas o "tapa" para proteger sus cristales.
6. Comprén comida extra especialmente aquellas que se pueden preparar sin cocinar y necesitan poca refrigeración. Puede que falle la electricidad.
7. Asegure de que sus utilidades de cocina estén en buena orden para trabajar, y tener bastante combustible a mano.
8. Guarde en storage agua para tomar, en caso que falle el agua. Esterilice su bandera y otros recipientes y llenelos de agua.
9. Curas de primeros auxilios deben tenerse a mano, como también listeros y otros licores de emergencias.
10. Llene su auto de gasolina.
11. Si falla la electricidad por varios días sera muy difícil tener la gasolina en los garages.
12. Asegure que no quede para suelta que pueda volar. Objetos tales como latones de bañeras son potencialmente peligrosos como también herramientas de jardín, juguetes, muebles afuera. Beje sus antenas de televisión, pero sin extremo cuidado si Ud. no posee un canal-down antenna.
13. Cuando el centro o "top" del ciclon o huracan pasa, hay una calma en el viento que dura de unos pocos minutos hasta media hora. Si Ud. quiere hacer algunos reparos durante este tiempo, asegure que la fuerza de los vientos huracanados volverá de pronto en la dirección opuesta, muy convenientemente a mayor velocidad de aquellos que han pasado.
